Artefact 1

Platform Name

As a team one of the first things we chose to do was to try and think of a name for the platform. We sat down as a group for a couple of hours and talked through some ideas in which the name could come from. We decided we wanted to name our platform based on the idea of a circle. I nominated myself to find some good names. The list came down to three, Coterie, Alliance and Nucleus. We voted as a team and the winner was Coterie or Coterie Online. The three chosen for the team to choose from were all derived from the word circle or derived from words that were derived from circle.

noun

1. a round plane figure whose boundary (the circumference) consists of points equidistant from a fixed point (the centre).
"draw a circle with a compass"
2. a group of people with a shared profession, interests, or acquaintances.
"she did not normally move in such exalted circles" synonyms: group, set, ring, company, body, coterie, clique; camp, league, faction; crowd, band, crew; informal gang, bunch, pack
"a new circle of friends"
 - sphere, world, milieu, arena, domain; society
"I'm afraid I don't move in such illustrious circles"

WYSIWYG Box

In Release 1 I was also tasked with creating a What You See Is What You Get editing box. However, after implementing it in to our system and showing the client, it was decided to scrap the box. The editing box was implemented using TinyMCE and an image of the WYSIWYG editing box is shown below. Also found below is part of the corresponding text used to implement the editing box.

<!DOCTYPE html>
<html>
<head>
  <script src="//cdn.tinymce.com/4/tinymce.min.js"></script>
  <script>tinymce.init({ selector:'textarea' });</script>
</head>
<body>
  <textarea>Easy! You should check out MoxieManager!</textarea>
</body>
</html>

Clickable Links

In release 1 I also contributed to creating the clickable icon links that link the users accounts to Facebook, Google and Github. Below are the screenshots of the clickable links with their corresponding code

div
  button.stack(type='submit') Login
  a.stack.pseudo.button(href='/auth/facebook') Sign in with Facebook
  a.stack.pseudo.button(href='/auth/google') Sign in with Google a.stack.pseudo.button(href='/auth/github') Sign in with GitHub

My Linked Accounts

h3 My Linked Accounts
a(href='/auth/link/facebook')
i.fa.fa-facebook-official.fa-2x(aria-hidden='true')
| Link Facebook
a(href='/auth/link/google')
i.fa.fa-google.fa-2x(aria-hidden='true')
| Link Google
a(href='/auth/link/github')
i.fa.fa-github.fa-2x(aria-hidden='true')
| Link Github

Artefact 1

User Interface Design - Favicon

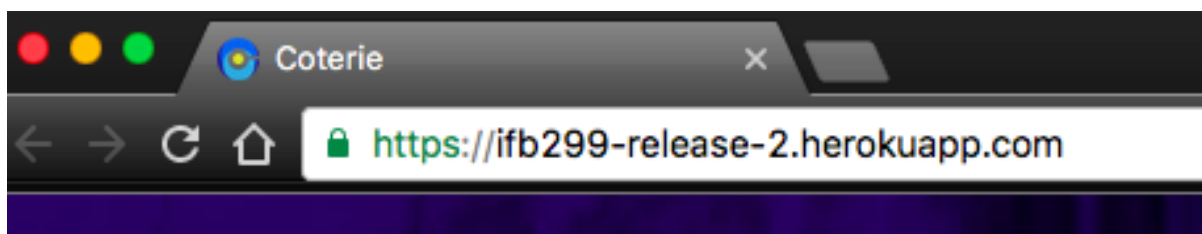

After receiving feedback from the client team that our User Interfaces were questionably designed, and they pointed out the site was missing a Favicon.

Favicon:

An icon associated with a particular website, typically displayed in the address bar of a browser accessing the site or next to the site name in a user's list of bookmarks.

Personal Contribution

I spent some time getting the sizing right for our favicon to work correctly in our platform. You can see the final product of the favicon in the images below.
